“Network with other women dealing with the same challenges.”

“High quality networking experiences.”

“Professional connections and development opportunities.”

“Being a woman in a male dominated industry can be a little intimidating, so I was thrilled to hear about the women’s division and joined right away! It has been great to network with other women who are dealing with the same workplace challenges and share each other's experiences and ideas on how to move forward. I have already made some great friendships through my involvement with this division and know it will continue to be a great resource for me personally, my career and our company.

Elkay is excited to see our people taking an active role in the ASA Women in Industry Division. The organization is providing the professional connections and development opportunities that our up-and-coming female business leaders need to be successful in their careers. The events we've attended have provided our team with high-quality networking experiences, and the speakers have been exceptional.”

ASA Women In Industry Division

What's In It for You?

Today's PHCP-PVF industry is not only expanding at a rapid rate, it is also becoming more dynamic every day. ASA has represented an industry traditionally dominated by men. We are now seeing more women moving into leadership roles within the industry. Women leaders have blazed the trail for many more who are currently rising through the ranks of industry firms.

As a progressive trade group, ASA sees tremendous value in the expanded roles women are occupying. Collaboratively, we must ensure the path progresses and benefits our industry and member-companies' profitability and performance. To foster the expanding role of women, ASA recently formed the Women in Industry Division. The focus of this Division is on how ASA can empower women and provide them with the opportunity to connect—through education, information, and engagement.
